

MH Day has been focused on these themes over the last few years:

Which of these themes is the most effective? Why?

What theme would you set to get people talking about periods and help address period poverty?